FAITH ON FIRE BLUEPRINT FOR LIFE WORKBOOK

The Official Companion Manual to the Video Course

This workbook is your personal guide through the Faith On Fire Blueprint. Don't just read it write in it. Be honest. Be raw. God already knows where you are, and this is your safe space to meet Him there. Each module includes a key teaching summary, reflection questions, and a concrete action step. Complete each section before moving to the next video. Your breakthrough is in the work.

How to Use This Workbook

Welcome to the Faith On Fire Blueprint For Life Workbook. This is the official companion manual to the video course and is designed to be written in, prayed through, and lived out. Do not treat this like a passive read. This is an interactive transformation guide. Every page, prompt, and practice is crafted to help you return to God with honesty, reconnect with Him daily, restore the man in the mirror, reignite your assignment, and remain on fire for the long haul.

Structure you'll follow across all modules: Key Teaching (clarity), Reflection Questions (honesty), Declaration (identity), and This Week's Action Step (obedience in motion). Move sequentially. Let conviction lead to action. Keep your pen moving; revelation often follows reflection.

Pro tip: Block consistent time on your calendar for this journey. Show up with your Bible, this workbook, and a willing heart. Invite one brother to walk it with you for accountability. Expect resistance and plan to push through anyway.

MODULE 1: Wake-Up Call

Why Your Disobedience Is Costing You More Than You Know

Key Teaching: Spiritual drift doesn't happen overnight. It happens slowly, one compromise, one distraction, one silent morning at a time. Before we can move forward, we have to get honest about where we are and what staying away from God has actually cost us. Not to produce shame, but to produce hunger. The pain of where you are has to become greater than the fear of change.

Reflection Questions

1. When did you first notice the distance between you and God? What was happening in your life at that time?
2. What has spiritual drift cost you in your relationships, your peace, your sense of purpose?
3. What has kept you from coming back sooner? Be completely honest.
4. What would your life look like one year from now if nothing changes?
5. What would your life look like one year from now if you committed fully to this process?

My Declaration

Write a one-paragraph statement about why you are committed to completing this course and what you are believing God for by the end of it.

This Week's Action Step

Find a quiet place and spend 10 minutes in complete silence. No phone, no music, no distractions. Just you and God. Ask Him one question: "Lord, where have I been?" Then listen. Write down whatever comes to your heart.

Guidance: Capture the exact costs of drift (missed moments with family, compromised integrity, muted joy). Name them to disarm them. Replace vague guilt with specific repentance targets. End this module by calendaring three silent mornings this week.

MODULE 2: Pillar #1 RETURN

The Repentance That Changes Everything

Key Teaching: Most men don't come back to God because they believe they've gone too far. That's the enemy's greatest lie. Repentance isn't a feeling it's a decision. It's turning your face toward the Father and taking one step in His direction. The moment you do, He runs to meet you. That's not religion. That's the Gospel.

Reflection Questions

1. What areas of your life do you know God is calling you to turn away from?
2. Have you ever truly repented, or have you only felt sorry when things went wrong? What's the difference in your own words?
3. What has shame told you about your ability to return to God? Is that true?
4. What would it feel like to be fully forgiven and fully restored?
5. Who in your life needs to see you take this step? Who is watching?

The Steps of Repentance — Personal Inventory Y OR N

- Pride / Self-Reliance:_____
- Sexual Sin:_____
- Anger / Bitterness:_____
- Dishonesty:_____
- Neglected Relationships:_____
- Addiction: _____
- Idolatry:_____

My Declaration

Write out your personal prayer of repentance in your own words. Make it real. Make it yours.

This Week's Action Step

Pray your repentance prayer out loud. Not in your head, out loud. Then write today's date here as a memorial marker of the day you turned back: I returned to God on:_____

Tip: Mark the location and time you prayed as a memorial. Consider sharing your date with a trusted brother for accountability. Return is a doorway, step through it and keep walking.

MODULE 3: RECONNECT

Prayer, The Word, and Praise as Daily Weapons

Key Teaching: Reconnecting with God isn't complicated but it is consistent. Prayer, the Word, and Praise are not religious rituals. They are the three weapons God gave you to stay spiritually strong, spiritually sharp, and spiritually sensitive to His voice. The men who stay on fire are not the ones who had the biggest mountaintop experience. They're the ones who showed up every single morning.

Reflection Questions

1. What does your current daily time with God look like, honestly?
2. What is the biggest obstacle keeping you from a consistent prayer life?
3. When you read the Bible, what gets in the way of it actually connecting to your real life?
4. What role has praise played in your life during hard seasons? What did it do for you?
5. What would a realistic daily rhythm with God look like for your actual life and schedule?

Build Your Daily Rhythm

- I will spend _____ minutes in prayer every morning at _____ AM/PM
- I will read _____ chapters/verses of Scripture each day. I will start in the book of _____
- I will incorporate praise by _____
- My non-negotiable quiet time location is: _____

My Declaration

Write a commitment statement to God about your daily time with Him:

This Week's Action Step

Start a 7-day prayer journal. Each morning write down one thing you're asking God for and one thing you're thanking Him for. At the end of 7 days, look back and record what you noticed.

Rhythm Builder: Pair prayer with a trigger (brew coffee, lace shoes, commute). Keep Bible open to next reading. Use a short praise playlist. Track streaks for momentum; grace for misses.

MODULE 4: FIND YOUR PEOPLE

You Were Never Meant to Do This Alone

Key Teaching: Isolation is not strength. It's a trap. The enemy knows that a man alone is a man vulnerable. Every man who has fallen hard has one thing in common. He was doing life by himself. Brotherhood is not optional for a man on fire. It is essential. But brotherhood doesn't just happen. You have to pursue it, build it, and protect it.

The 3 Lies Men Believe About Brotherhood

As you watch the video, write down each lie and why you have personally believed it:

- Lie #1:_____
- Why I believed this:_____
- Lie #2:_____
- Why I believed this:_____
- Lie #3:_____
- Why I believed this:_____

Reflection Questions

1. Who are the men currently in your life that sharpen you spiritually? Name them.
2. Who in your life is pulling you away from God, even subtly?
3. Have you ever been hurt by men in the church or in a brotherhood setting? How has that affected you?
4. What would it mean to you to have even one man who truly had your back spiritually?
5. What kind of man do YOU need to be to attract that kind of brotherhood?

My People Plan

Write down 2-3 men you will reach out to this week to begin building or deepening brotherhood:

This Week's Action Step

Reach out to one man this week, a text, a call, or a coffee invite. Tell him you're going through something that's changing your life and you want him in it. Don't wait for perfect conditions.

Practice: Plan a recurring monthly check-in with at least one brother. Share your top three temptations and your top three priorities. Give permission for hard questions and honest answers.

PILLAR #1 RETURN COMMITMENT LETTER

Read this letter aloud before signing it. Mean every word.

Dear Heavenly Father,

I am done running. I am done hiding behind my shame, my failures, and my excuses. Today, I make a deliberate, eyes-open decision to turn away from what has kept me distant from You, and to turn my face fully toward You.

I acknowledge that I have drifted. I acknowledge the cost of that drift in my relationships, my purpose, and my peace. And I acknowledge that none of it disqualifies me from Your grace.

I repent not just with words, but with my will. I choose today to walk away from (write what you are turning from):

And I choose today to walk toward (write what you are returning to)

I will pray. I will be in Your Word. I will lift praise even when I don't feel like it. I will find my people and refuse to do this alone.

I am returning. And I am not looking back.

MODULE 5: Pillar #2

RESTORE

Making Peace With the Man in the Mirror

Key Teaching: You cannot build a new life on an unhealed foundation. Before your relationships can be restored, before your purpose can be reignited, you have to make peace with the man you see in the mirror. That means looking honestly at your wounds, your patterns, and the version of yourself that has been running the show and handing him over to God.

Reflection Questions

- 01 When you look in the mirror, what do you see? Be honest, not what you want to see, what you actually see.

- 02 What is the wound you have been carrying the longest? Where did it come from?

- 03 What negative patterns in your life keep showing up no matter how hard you try to stop them?

- 04 What does the fully restored version of you look like as a man, a father, a husband, a friend?

- 05 What is one relationship in your life that needs restoration, and what is your role in it?

The Restoration Inventory Score 1-10

- My relationship with God: _____
- My relationship with myself: _____
- My relationship with my spouse/partner: _____
- My relationship with my children: _____
- My relationship with my father: _____
- My relationship with other men: _____
- My relationship with my purpose: _____
- Circle the lowest score. That is your starting point for restoration.

This Week's Action Step

Write a letter to the man you have been, not to shame him, but to release him. Thank him for surviving. Then tell him it's time to step aside so the man God made can step forward. You don't have to send it to anyone. Just write it.

Practice: Share one restoration target with a trusted brother and ask him to pray with you this week. Schedule a counseling session if a wound needs professional care. Healing is holy work.

MODULE 6: FORGIVENESS

You Are One Decision Away From Freedom

Key Teaching: Unforgiveness is not a moral failure. It's a prison. And the cruel irony is that you built it, you locked it, and you're the only one sitting inside it. The person you haven't forgiven is living their life. You are the one in chains. Forgiveness is not saying what happened was okay. It is saying that you refuse to let what happened keep owning you.

Reflection Questions

1. Who do you need to forgive that you haven't? Write their names down without overthinking it.
2. How has holding onto unforgiveness affected your relationship with God?
3. What are you afraid will happen if you forgive?
4. What has unforgiveness cost you emotionally, physically, spiritually, relationally?
5. On a scale of 1-10, how ready are you to forgive right now, today? What would it take to get to a 10?

The Forgiveness List

Write the name of every person — including yourself — you need to release forgiveness to:

The Hardest Name on That List

Write that person's name here: _____

Write what forgiving them would actually mean for your life:

This Week's Action Step

Choose one person from your forgiveness list. Pray specifically for them every day this week. You don't have to contact them. You don't have to feel it yet. Just pray for them daily and watch what God does in your own heart.

Tool: Write a short forgiveness prayer you can repeat daily. Pair it with breath prayer ("On inhale: Lord have mercy. On exhale: I release them."). Freedom grows with practice.

PILLAR #2 RESTORE COMMITMENT LETTER

Read this letter aloud before signing it. Mean every word.

Dear Heavenly Father,

Today I choose to stop building on a broken foundation. I have carried wounds I was never meant to carry alone, and I have let them quietly destroy what matters most to me. That ends today.

I am making peace with the man in the mirror, not because he is perfect, but because You are not finished with him.

I choose to face what I have avoided. The wound I have carried the longest is:

I release it to You now. I trust You to restore what I cannot fix on my own.

I choose to forgive (write the name or names):

Not because they deserve it. But because I deserve to be free.

I also choose to forgive myself for:

I am no longer defined by what was done to me or what I have done. I am defined by what You say about me. And You say I am worthy of restoration.

I am being restored. And I receive it fully.

MODULE 7: Pillar #3

REIGNITE

Come Into Alignment With Your God-Given Assignment

Key Teaching: Purpose is not something you find. It's something you align with. God didn't hide your assignment from you, the noise of life, the weight of sin, and the distraction of survival buried it. Now that you're returning and being restored, it's time to hear clearly what God has been saying all along. You were made for something specific. It's time to walk in it.

Reflection Questions

01 What did you feel called to do before life, failure, or fear got in the way?

02 What do people consistently come to you for, naturally, without you advertising it?

03 What makes you lose track of time because you love it so much?

04 What problem in the world or in your community makes you angry enough to want to fix it?

05 If money were not a factor, what would you spend your days doing for God and for others?

Your Assignment Discovery Exercise

- I am most alive when I am _____
- God has given me a unique ability to _____
- The people I feel most called to serve are _____
- The problem I was put on this earth to help solve is _____
- My God-given assignment, in one sentence, is: _____

This Week's Action Step

Share your one-sentence assignment with one person in your brotherhood this week. Saying it out loud makes it real. Then ask them: "Do you see this in me?" Their answer will either confirm what God has been saying or open a conversation that brings more clarity.

Activation: Convert your assignment into a 30-60-90 day roadmap (one bold action per horizon). Schedule your first step within 72 hours. Momentum honors obedience.

MODULE 8: THE NEW MAN

Introducing the Version of You That Was There All Along

Key Teaching: The New Man is not a stranger. He is who you were always meant to be before the world, the wounds, and the wrong choices layered over him. You are not becoming someone new. You are becoming someone true. The work you've done in this course has been excavation, removing what doesn't belong so the real you can finally stand up.

Reflection Questions

01 How would you describe yourself six months ago versus today?

02 What is the most significant shift that has happened in you through this process?

03 What does the New Man, the real you believe about God? About himself? About his future?

04 What old habits, mindsets, or relationships does the New Man need to leave behind permanently?

05 What does the New Man's daily life look like specifically?

The New Man Declaration

Write your personal New Man Declaration below. This is a statement of who you are, what you believe, and how you will live from this day forward. Make it bold. Make it specific. Make it yours.

I am _____

This Week's Action Step

Read your New Man Declaration out loud every morning for the next 30 days. Put it on your mirror, in your phone, or in your Bible. Let it be the first thing that shapes how you see yourself each day.

Embodiment: Choose one visible habit that the New Man does daily (e.g., 10 minutes of Scripture, 10 minutes of movement, one text to a brother). Let behavior reinforce identity.

PILLAR #3

REIGNITE

COMMITMENT

LETTER

PILLAR #3 COMMITMENT LETTER REIGNITE

Read this letter aloud before signing it. Mean every word.

Dear Heavenly Father,

For too long I have lived below what You created me for. I have been busy, but not purposeful. I have been surviving, but not truly living. Today that changes.

I believe You placed a specific assignment inside of me before I was born. I believe that assignment did not expire when I drifted. I believe it is still alive, still waiting, and still possible.

The assignment I believe You have placed on my life is:

I commit to stop waiting for perfect conditions to walk in it. I commit to stop letting fear, past failure, or the opinions of others keep me small. I am done shrinking.

The first bold step I will take toward my assignment this week is:

I align myself today — my time, my energy, my decisions, my relationships — with the man You called me to be. Not the man fear made me. Not the man shame built. The man You designed.

I am reignited. And I will walk in my assignment with boldness, humility, and faith.

MODULE 9: Pillar #4 REMAIN

Keep the Fire Burning

Key Teaching: The hardest part of transformation isn't the breakthrough. It's the Tuesday after the breakthrough. Remaining on fire for God is a daily decision made through daily disciplines. The men who stay transformed are not the ones who never struggle, they're the ones who have a system that brings them back quickly when they do. You need a plan for remaining, not just a feeling.

Reflection Questions

1. Think of a time in your life when you had spiritual momentum and then lost it. What happened?
2. What are your three biggest personal triggers for spiritual drift?
3. What does a spiritually strong week look like for you specifically?
4. Who in your brotherhood has permission to speak into your life when you're drifting?
5. What is your plan for getting back on track within 24 hours when you have a bad day?

Your Remain System

Build your personal staying-on-fire plan:

Daily Non-Negotiables

Weekly Anchors

My Early Warning Signs That I'm Drifting

My 24-Hour Recovery Plan When I Drift

This Week's Action Step

Share your Remain System with your accountability brother. Ask him to check in on you monthly not to police you, but to celebrate you. Give him permission to ask the hard questions.

Sustain: Put your system where you'll see it daily. Tie it to calendar alarms. Review it every Sunday night. Celebrate streaks with your brotherhood.

MODULE 10: THE INVITATION

Come Into the Brotherhood and Remain on Fire Together

Key Teaching: You made it. Let that sink in. You started this course as one man, and you're finishing it as another. Everything you've worked through the repentance, the restoration, the reigniting, the daily commitment to remain, this is the foundation of a life that matters. But your story isn't meant to end here. It's meant to fuel someone else's beginning.

Final Reflection Questions

- 01 What is the single most powerful thing God showed you through this course?

- 02 Who in your life needs to go through this course? Write their name down right now.

- 03 What is the next area of your life you know God wants to work on?

- 04 What does the next chapter of your Faith on Fire journey look like?

- 05 How will you use what God has done in you to serve other men?

A Letter to the Man You Were

Write a short letter to the man you were when you started this course. Tell him what you found. Tell him it was worth it.

PILLAR #4 REMAIN COMMITMENT LETTER

Read this letter aloud before signing it. Mean every word.

Dear Heavenly Father,

I have returned. I have been restored. I have been reignited. And now I make my final and most important commitment, I will remain.

I know that the enemy does not stop working just because I had a breakthrough. I know that the fire that is not fed will fade. I know that the man who walks alone is the man most vulnerable to falling. So today I build my plan, I sharpen my weapons, and I lock arms with my brothers.

The daily disciplines I commit to protecting are:

The brother or brothers I am trusting to hold me accountable are:

When I drift, and there will be days I drift, my commitment is to return within 24 hours. No shame spiral. No extended absence. No convincing myself it's over. I will get up, return to my disciplines, reach out to my brotherhood, and remember this moment right here.

I am not the man I was when I started this journey. I am a man on fire. And I will not let that fire go out.

To the man reading this letter one year from now, you kept your word. God kept His. Look how far you've come.

I remain. Today, tomorrow, and for the rest of my life.

🔥 CONGRATULATIONS — YOU COMPLETED THE FAITH ON FIRE BLUEPRINT. You didn't just finish a course. You built a foundation. Now go live on it. That's the complete workbook, all 10 modules, all four Commitment Letters, and a powerful closing. This is genuinely something men will keep, return to, and share with other men in their lives.
